RADIAN

RADIAN – Facilitating Collaboration in ReseArch and Development to Foster Further Innovation in European AeroNautics

The mission of the RADIAN project is to generate long-lasting Research, Development, and Innovation (RDI) cooperation in the field of the Aeronautics and Air Transport (AAT).

RADIAN identifies barriers to international collaboration in aviation research at the EU level, and develops and offers solutions and measures at the level of the European regions.

Read more: www.h2020-radian.eu

This project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 724109.