What is Estonian cuisine - Nordic with a twist, or a touch from Russia and a bit of German? Take a glimpse into its surprisingly vivid culinary scene during our Tallinn Food Tour. You'll have around 6~7 food & drink stops combined with strolls on historical cobblestone streets of Tallinn Old Town.

Concerning the tour - Tallinn Food Tour combines personalised city tour with various typical for the region food & drink stops. This walking tour takes you on a culinary excursion of the Old Town, including also stops at neighbouring Baltic Station Market and gives you a chance to experience the smells, flavours and stories of Estonian cuisine. You will also get to see some of the most beautiful parts of the Old Town and nearby Kalamaja quarter and hear exciting stories about Estonian history and the country today.

Please note that this is foremost food & drink tasting tour. You'll not be left with empty stomach but the menu of the food tour is not directly equivalent to 3-course meal f.i.

Tallinn Food Tour includes food-stops like: at medieval thematic tavern, locals café, small local chocolate museum & factory, a traditional café & marzipan shop, and at nearby market. There are also some surprise stops en route. During this ~3 hour combined city & food tour you will get the first impression on the variety of culinary scene in Estonia, where it came and where is it heading for, along with stories and legends told by our professional tour guides.

Concerning the food stops menu - Tallinn Food Tour consists of around 6~7 food & drink stops based on local traditional and modern food, and some drinks. You will be served a soup, various traditional food samples, like black rye bread, open faced traditional for Estonia spiced sprat sandwiches, but also samples of modern Estonian cuisine. You will try out some local drinks, like 'Kali' or/and 'Kama', some local schnapps and sweets and a good cup of locally roasted coffee or a glass of fresh juice or lemonade or glögg (depending on season).

Please note that food & drink stops and the menu can vary a bit depending on the season!

Suggested starting time for private Tallinn Food Tour is within 10:00 to 16:00 and starting spot in front of Tallinn Tourism Information Centre (Niguliste Str. 2, see map). The tour terminates either at Baltic Station Market or in the old town. Duration of the tour is around 3 hours. Minimum 2 participants per tour.
