ART IN A HOTEL?

WHAT DOES ART INITIATE IN A HOTEL?
 AT A PLACE WHERE PEOPLE COME TOGETHER
 WHO DIDN'T MEET BEFORE AND - MOSTLY - WON'T MEET AGAIN?

What happens with art pieces of very different artists at a location where nobody expects them? How does it feel to rest in a hotel room where the decoration is not only a serial print but an original art piece? When ambience and art are able to co-exist in an inspiring but cosy atmosphere, new spaces of communication, emotions and experiences can be found.

Katrin and Dirk Liesenfeld are living their dream of a unique hotel with a small and cozy restaurant and avandgarde art: five suites, four superior double rooms and three smaller rooms were individually refurbished for guests who want to feel like being in a home away from home.

The concept has been highly praised by both the international and Austrian media. The art-lodge has been described as "a challenge for its guests – but nothing ventured, nothing gained." (DER STANDARD). The KURIER uses the terms of a "small but precious private museum, a glamorous treasure chest filled with sculptures, paintings, installations" and the WELT AM SONNTAG asks: "Where else in the Alps do you find changing exhibitions of modern art at such an altitude?"
