Open Call: CHIEF CURATORIAL ADVISER for the EU Project „CycleUp!”

The Goethe-Institut is looking for a Chief Curatorial Adviser for the EU Project “CycleUp!” starting from 01|06|2023 until 28|02|2027. The Curatorial Team will consist of one Chief Curatorial Adviser and an Advisory Board of five.

CycleUp! is an EU project funded by special funds (Creative Europe) at the interface of art, culture, and sustainability. It bridges the worlds of art, culture and sustainable transport and embeds environmental sustainability in a European artistic and creative process. It brings together artists, decision-makers and the general public. The project aims at mobilising artists and the general public around these issues through residencies, artistic interventions in public spaces and community activities. Project activities will take place in Germany, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Poland, and Estonia, among other countries.

What to expect:

As the Chief Curatorial Adviser, you will play a pivotal role in developing the overall artistic vision of the project and oversee all artistic and cultural aspects of it. You will work closely with the Curatorial Advisory Board to develop an artistic, sustainability, and inclusion framework that aligns with the project's goals and values. Additionally, you will oversee the selection process for artists and artworks to be featured in residencies, artistic interventions, exhibitions, and events. The Curatorial Team will advise the CycleUp! steering committee for the duration of the project. The Chief Curatorial Adviser will act as the main spokesperson of the Curatorial Team.

Our Curatorial Team will consist of a group of leaders in their respective fields who are dedicated to supporting sustainable residency programs and carbon-neutral art production. This is a unique chance to work on an exciting and environmentally sustainable project aimed at promoting green mobility and cycling in the project's partner cities and other EU countries. Being part of an international project like CycleUp! provides a chance to work together with various artists, decision-makers, and communities, and offers valuable networking prospects. You will be paid an honorarium and all travel expenses.

Considerations:

We are looking for a motivated and experienced curator or art practitioner, preferably with a focus on contemporary art. Fluency in spoken and written English is required, and knowledge of other languages would be considered an advantage. The candidate must be a resident of one of the partner countries (Germany, the Czech Republic, Slovakia, Poland, and Estonia). We value diversity and welcome all applications irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic and social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation and identity.
