MAPCO® – as usual, the brake specialist

Since four decades, MAPCO® has built its reputation as a brake specialist throughout Europe. Despite enormous additions to our product range, the Braking System product family continually receives the utmost attention to detail and is constantly expanded and adapted to the evolving technical requirements. MAPCO® disc brake pads are of recognized quality, which is also confirmed by the ECE type approval by the German Federal Motor Transport Authority (KBA). This certification validates that the parts have passed physical and chemical tests and have OEM quality.

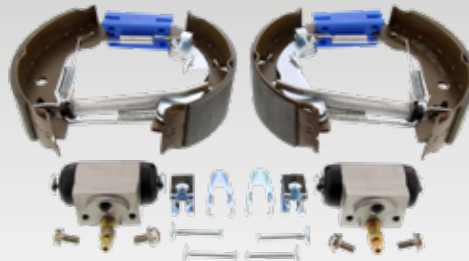

MAPCO® also offers a large selection of high-quality items for brake discs. After all, brake discs are often found to be faulty in vehicle safety inspections. Of course, the product family also includes master and wheel brake cylinders as well as all wear parts related to the drum brakes. The product range is completed by brake hoses, brake and clutch cables and warning contacts for disc brake systems as well as ABS sensors.

NEW Advantages
Carbon disc brake kits

- |  |                               |
|--|-------------------------------|
| Excellent protection against corrosion           | → Perfect view of LM rims     |
| Protection of the wheel hubs (mounting surfaces) | → no rust bloom               |
| Impeccable visual appearance                     | → even after extended use     |
| High portion of carbon                           | → better thermal conductivity |

ECE regulation: R 90 - substitutional brake pads units for cars and trailers.

With security in the norm. Disc brake pads and disc brake shoes made by MAPCO have been meeting the ECE-R90-norm for many years. Brake drums and discs fulfil the norm from November 2016 on. As specialist for brakes we guarantee our high performance standard and deliver exclusively certified replacement parts.

HIGHEST REQUIREMENTS AND COMPLETE DOCUMENTATION

As producer, MAPCO® is checking permanently the quality of its products from the raw materials till the finished goods. Skilled collaborators in Germany and Asia take care to document consistently the production process of each module. This guarantees that MAPCO® products meet highest requirements.

MAPCO® products are marked with the place of production, production data and the charge number in order to ensure a complete documentation. The products are so good that the quote of guarantee cases permanently lies under two per mille. MAPCO® warrants the quality of its products with the registered trade mark.
