Introduction

Ramon is the founder and partner of RASK Attorneys-at-Law and a highly regarded expert in corporate advisory. He advises domestic and international companies on their daily business activities, complex mergers and acquisitions and issues related to business financing.

Ramon has lengthy and extensive experience in advising foreign investors, being an indispensable partner throughout the whole investment cycle, starting from the analysis of the object and area of investment, the development of the transaction structure, and the conduct of the transaction, up to the ongoing servicing of the object and the exit of the investor at a later stage. Ramon's clients include several internationally renowned investment advisors whose portfolios contain both major regional companies and large investors with a significant volume of investments in Estonia.

Ramon also represents his clients in court disputes, and he has been an advisor in a number of ground-breaking and sizeable court cases. For example, he has acted as a defence counsel in tax, intellectual property, and commercial criminal cases, as well as in complex media disputes. He has also represented clients at the European Court of Human Rights.

Ramon is a member of the Board of the Estonian Bar Association and also serves on the Bar Association's Commercial Law Committee, contributing to the resolution of legal issues at the legislative level. He is the Chairman of the Anti-Doping Appeals Panel at the Estonian Anti-Doping Agency within the Estonian Olympic Committee and an experienced lecturer who has trained numerous entrepreneurs, as well as lawyers and judges of the Republic of Estonia. Ramon is an Officer (in reserve) in the Estonian Defence Forces, where he has served and continues to be actively involved.
