CERTIFICATE OF AUTHORITY AND PROCEDURES

I speak English and Spanish from Spain and I know basic differences from other countries. The year COVID-19 erupted I was looking for a family car to move out of the city by June. So with the research I found VW Passat diesel that was released from a circumstance of "faking". That I read and it was fixed. I found to be useful to reuse that car and that was wonderful rather than supporting a mayor lost. Therefore I ran into the news of that VW offered to sell an engine or better said a car in the US that consumes like 5 times less than other cars. The reason I found and I thought back then that when after WW2 Germany was left without an army so became better in technologies. SO as a result that was a gift but it was rejected. There are Germanies and there are Spains and there are uses Those decisions matter rather than making other countries get higher prices for the fuels, etc. Still may you know . Six packs beer vs a 8 packs muscles - and may you know when working out I feed myself gelatin from cows of great quality along with herbs related to meridians and an extra of herbs I added to those that they were already taking but did not accept so as to support the body that I was building rather than to take as to please or that one that was dumping to the offspring springs and always said don't leave him behind so he put him behind so you know what that would mean for many.

22% + the sale of an object that you would not need as you would walk a path of public transportation along with a sum of the 3's.
